

Coming this Summer in Latitudes & Attitudes Magazine

We like to make the charter vacation experience aboard Jalapeno a nice blend of fun, good food and drink, island experiences, and a taste of the sailing lifestyle. Much of the charter vacation industry has morphed into less of a sailing adventure, especially in the BVI where the big catamarans have taken over. So, in the past few years we have added more trips up and down the Eastern Caribbean island chain to our schedule, from the Virgin Islands to the Grenadines, for those wanting a bit more adventure in their vacation.

Coming At You

Latitudes & Attitudes magazine also focuses on readers like us interested in the real sailing lifestyle. What a great way for someone who is not already living it to experience a taste of the sailing lifestyle with a charter vacation aboard Jalapeno. We will see what their readers think. Below is a preview of the 1/2 page ad Latitudes & Attitudes put together for their summer issue. I'm sharing this with our Jalapeno followers to give you first chance to join a sail before this issue hits the mail and magazine rack.

2019-2020 Schedule

On June 11 we will be departing St. Thomas and sailing to Grenada with multiple stops along the way. We already have one guest aboard who signed-on for the entire duration, including helping with the haul-out at Grenada Marine on June 25. I would consider taking one or two other people along in the second guest cabin for some or all of the trip. Short notice, so please let me know right away if this is of interest to you.
